Projects

Walk Worthy | HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Tailwind CSS, PHP, MySQL | GitHub Apr' 25

- Developed an online Shoe Customization and Ordering Platform using HTML, CSS, JavaScript and Tailwind CSS to create a fully responsive and interactive UI.
- Integrated PHP and MySQL via XAMPP for user authentication, product listings, cart management, and order tracking, ensuring secure and efficient database operations.
- Implemented real-time shoe customization previews and a modular system design, enhancing user experience and maintaining clean, reusable code architecture.

Sustainable Energy Resources – Geothermal, Wind, and Tidal | HTML, CSS, JavaScript | GitHub Nov' 23

- Designed a responsive and interactive website highlighting the concepts, advantages, and real- world applications of Geothermal, Wind, and Tidal energy using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.
- Executed dynamic animations and interactive components through JavaScript to visualize renewable energy processes, improving user engagement and content clarity.
- Optimized website UI/UX design with a focus on sustainability awareness, accessibility, and cross- browser compatibility, achieving a modern and visually appealing layout.

Training

Lovely Professional University Jun' 25 – Jul' 25
Data Structures and Algorithms using CPP

- Integrated core data structures such as arrays, linked lists, stacks, queues, trees, and graphs to strengthen algorithmic problem-solving skills.
- Built and optimized sorting, searching, and recursion-based algorithms, improving time and space efficiency across various coding challenges.
- Applied object-oriented programming concepts in C++ for modular code design and practiced competitive programming techniques to enhance logical thinking and performance.
